CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Although profit taking by thorts gave the wheat market an appearance of strength at the opening, general bearish sentiment was obvious, and values soon began to break.

Nervousness was evident regarding European political and economic develop ments, especially the British coal miners' strike and there was no confidence on the buil side when the attention of traders became focussed on crop estimates issu-ed by two authorities here. Both esti-mates pointed to a yield of winter wheat much in excess of last year's total. On the ensuing sharp decline export de-mand broadened out, and had some tempovery effect in rallying the market, but investors seemed to have been scared away, and in the absence of any good general buying the close was near the bottom figures of the day.

Liquidation on the part c. holders was a depressing factor in the market for corn and cats. The weakness of wheat appeared to be the chief immediate incentive to sell.
